FOREWORD . . .

The passing of time leaves many memories with which we can build a foundation for our future. We will always cherish the fleeting moments of laughter, sadness, frustration, and excitement created in the environment of John Graham Senior High School. Many goals were set, accompanied by the dreams and hopes of the students and faculty. Daily we strived to overcome the impossible feats of life and our own means of achievement were inspirations and encouragements to others. Together we grew, emotionally, physically, and mentally, as we shared our dreams and ideas with each other. We do not know what our future holds or what will be in the next decade, but our successes and failures here at this school have helped insure our aspirations for a brighter future. We must lead the way for others and keep our dreams, hopes, and goals, alive. What we will become depends upon our ambitions and desires for a better world in which to live.

Now and in the years to come, we hope that this annual will provide moments of pleasure for you and that it will be a prized possession containing memories of the hours of learning, understanding, and enjoyment that we shared here at John Graham.
